

Pultneyville Mariners -
Haven for relaxation
Heaven for sailors
Togetherness for families
And now, a new chapter is being written,
Connecting our history and our future.

More news from Commodore, Lisa Casalmir:

Things are happening quickly at PMI. With the building down, the property can be elevated and prepared for the new building.

Tree stump removal

Gulping hard as the familiar front doorway and pass-through windows disappear.

So many happy memories of our events. Hoping hard for the new sparkling replacement soon

With each strike of the excavator's bucket
Our clubhouse shuddered and shook
History's dust escaping
Before giving up its storied past
To our glorious future

Many of you have renewed or are new members. I am excited about this coming season and I am sure we will be able to overcome any challenges that come along. With the new building project underway, it is a great time to renew, if you haven't already. We are still in need of funding to finish the building project. Many of you have been generous with your donations and it has gotten us to the 2/3rds mark for our fundraising goal. We are counting on those members who can, but have not yet donated to help us meet our goal. I hope the progress being made at PMI will encourage you to donate to the project.

In the next few weeks we will be making plans for Spring Cleanup and the Social Events. If you are out and about and stop by PMI. Please practice social distancing, wear a mask and park by the sheds or boats.

A fond farewell ~ Good bye Old Friend

A comment from Jason, son of Carol & Jim May,

Wow, those are bittersweet pictures!

I am so proud of the work you are doing to protect the very special places where we grew up.

My love for the water and boating was born there, and today I share these passions as my favorite family pastime.

*I could challenge the power of the great Lake Ontario,
yet always find safe harbor in our little beach*

A lot of memories in that old building, but with a little hard work and some hope, the new one will become a beacon for a brighter more secure future.
